Notes to the unaudited consolidated condensed interim results for the six months ended 30 September 2017

1. Basis of preparation

The unaudited consolidated condensed results for the six months to September 2017 have been prepared in accordance with, and containing the information as required by, International Accounting Standard (IAS) 34: Interim Financial Reporting, the SAICA Financial Reporting Guides as issued by the Accounting Practices Committee, the Financial Reporting Pronouncements as issued by the Financial Reporting Standards Council and are in compliance with the Listing Requirements of the JSE Limited and the requirements of the South African Companies Act as amended. These results do not include all the information required for a complete set of IFRS financial statements. However, selected explanatory notes are included to explain events and transactions that are significant to an understanding of the changes in the Group's financial position and performance since the last annual consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended 31 March 2017.

These results have been prepared under the supervision of the Financial Director, Gys Wege (CA)SA, and have not been audited or reviewed by the Group's auditors, PwC Inc.

2. Significant accounting policies

The unaudited consolidated condensed results have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for the revaluation of certain properties and financial instruments. The accounting policies adopted are in terms of IFRS and consistent with those followed in the preparation of the Group's annual financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2017, except for the adoption of new standards and interpretations effective as at 1 April 2017. The new standards have no impact on the unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements.

4.2 Business combinations

Current period

The group has acquired 100% of the shares in Formex Industries Proprietary Limited ("Formex") from Hosken Consolidated Investments Limited ("HCI").

The acquisition of Formex represents a common control transaction as HCI is the ultimate controlling entity of Formex before and after the transaction. The Group has chosen the book value accounting policy, applying the hierarchy for the selection of accounting policies in IAS 8: Accounting Policies, Changes and Accounting Estimates and Errors. The accounting policy choice has been applied consistently to all transactions of a similar nature.

The book value accounting method requires the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed through the reorganisation to be accounted for using the book values in the financial statements of the transferor (HCI).

Formex Industries consists of Formex Pressing and Formex Tubing. Formex Pressing is a technologically competitive entity focusing on the development, manufacturing and supply of pressed components for the automotive market. Formex Tubing specialises in the manufacture of tubular and exhaust-related components.

Measurement of fair values in prior period

The assets and liabilities acquired in the prior period were measured on a provisional basis. The accounting for the business combination in the prior period was completed at 31 March 2017 with all identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed stated at their fair values.

5. Significant financing activities

5.1 Significant related party transactions

Current period

As referred to in note 4.2, the Group acquired 100% of the shares in Formex from HCI with effect from 1 August 2017 for an amount of R25 million. The transaction was announced on SENS on 10 July 2017 and 21 July 2017.

Prior period

In the prior period the company repurchased 133 507 226 shares from the Southern African Clothing and Textile Worker's Union (SACTWU) for a consideration of R267 014 452. The repurchased shares were delisted and cancelled on 30 September 2016.

5.2 Banking facilities

Prior period
The Group renegotiated its banking facilities in the prior period whereby R650 million of short-term facilities were converted to term funding.

6. Diluted weighted average number of shares

The difference between the weighted average number of shares and the diluted weighted average number of shares in the prior period are due to the impact of the unexercised options under the Group's incentive scheme. The Group's incentive scheme had no impact in the current period.

7. Post period-end events

There have been no reportable post-period-end events.

The Group has entered into a sale of shares and claims agreement with Main Street Holdings Proprietary Limited in terms of which Deneb has agreed to purchase 100% of the shares and claims in New Just Fun Group Proprietary Limited, subject to the fulfilment of conditions precedent which have not been met as at 30 September 2017. The transaction was announced on SENS on 13 July 2017.

8. Dividends/Distributions

The directors have resolved not to declare an interim dividend/distribution for the six months ended 30 September 2017 (2016: Nil).

Commentary

for the period ending September 2017

We mentioned in our results to 31 March 2017 that the Group had a number of loss-making businesses that were weighing on the Group's results. We have taken decisive action with regard to these businesses and a number of restructuring processes are underway or have been completed. The results for the period under review are significantly influenced by these restructuring initiatives. In certain instances, the restructuring affects separately identifiable pieces of businesses and where this is the case, the results for these pieces are reflected as discontinued operations. There are other processes that affect certain product ranges and parts of continuing businesses, and in these cases the costs of exiting these areas remain within the continuing operations.

The restructuring processes affect the following three businesses:

- Winelands Textiles, which in September communicated to its stakeholders its intention to discontinue a significant portion of the business and consolidate what may remain into a single production facility in Worcester. The consultation process is expected to be completed by the end of November. The results for Winelands Textiles are disclosed as discontinued operations;
- The second restructure relates to the Group's office automation business. The Group has decided to concentrate this business on the Gauteng market. We are investigating various opportunities to dispose of the outlying branches to external parties who will then continue to service customers in these regions and good progress has been made in this regard. Should any of the branches not be able to be sold, they will be closed in an orderly and disciplined manner to ensure that customers are not inconvenienced. All the branches, other than Gauteng and the central administration office, are accounted for as discontinued operations; and
- The third restructure relates to our branded sporting goods business. This business has been placed under the control of the Prima management team that has been working on discontinuing loss-making brands, improving operational efficiencies and effectiveness and optimising management structures. The result of these initiatives will see the breakeven point drop significantly.

The costs associated with these restructures have a more pronounced effect on the results for the first half of the year, which is traditionally the slower period for the Group, while the savings will only begin to reflect in the second half. We expect that the full benefits will only accrue in the new financial year although in the case of the office automation business, certain of the costs may continue into the new financial year.

Continuing operations

Outside of the divisions undergoing restructure, the rest of the businesses have struggled to deliver growth in a challenging economic environment. Having said that, if one excludes the three divisions mentioned above, the operating profit before interest and taxation from the remaining divisions did increase by 4% to R68 million.

On the growth front, the following transactions had an effect on the Group's results:

- The acquisition of Formex Industries from our holding company, HCI, was completed with effect from 1 August 2017. This business manufactures specialised pressing and tubing components for the automotive market. Deneb has been managing this business on behalf of HCI for a number of years. Its order book is the strongest it has been in a long time and we are confident that this acquisition will prove to be value enhancing; and
- The formation of HTIC (Hong Kong), which sources goods from overseas manufacturers primarily for its South African client base, including our own Group companies. The business has a long association with the Group, but in prior years it acted as an import agent. As from January 2017, it is classified as a subsidiary. The effect of this is that we now account for all the revenue and all the costs as opposed to just accounting for the net margin earned as was the case previously.

The results for the continuing operations can be summarised as follows:

- Revenue growth of 11% driven largely by acquisition as the current year includes Premier Rainwatergoods for the full six months as opposed to only four months in the prior period; Formex which was acquired effective 1 August 2017; and HTIC which was formed in January 2017;
- Gross margins reduced by 360 basis points, largely attributable to new revenue streams from HTIC and the acquisition of Formex, both of which operate a high volume, low margin business model;

- Interest expense increased by R17 million to R36 million as a result of higher debt levels from the share buyback completed in September 2016 and the interest-bearing debt assumed with the acquisition of Formex;
- The Group recognised a deferred tax asset on tax losses of R32 million; and
- The net profit from continuing operations is up R9 million (37%) to R33 million.

Property segment
Our industrial property portfolio continued to deliver solid results with occupancies at, or close to, 100% for the period. Revenue is up 5,6%, primarily from rental escalations, and operating profit is up 7,3% to R57 million.

During the period under review, we disposed of a property in Lansdowne, Cape Town for R28 million, and subsequent to the reporting period we acquired a new light industrial property in Montague Gardens, Cape Town for R21 million.

Industrial segment
The result for the industrial segment includes revenue from Premier Rainwatergoods for the full six months and two months of revenue from Formex. These acquisitions largely drive the 32% growth in revenue to R405 million.

Operating profit is down 38% to R15 million due in part to pressure on margins as a result of the general business environment but also affected by certain short-term issues. In our non-woven business one of our customers closed their South African operations which resulted in lost turnover. It has taken a bit of time to replace this turnover with a more direct channel to market, but ultimately it will leave us in a stronger position. Furthermore, we have incurred start-up costs in establishing an industrial insulation offering to augment our domestic insulation range. We are pleased with the traction in this area and subsequent to half year we have seen some good revenue growth.

Branded product segment
The branded product segment's performance was disappointing and reflects the challenging retail environment. This segment has three main components: Prima Group (Toys, Stationery and Interactive Games); the continuing piece of the office automation business; and branded sporting goods.

Within the Prima Group, interactive gaming had a strong first six months with both revenue and operating profit up quite substantially. Our stationery business weathered the difficult environment well, reporting some marginal growth. On the other hand, toys had a challenging first six months for two main reasons: retailers came into the year overstocked compounded by a growing trend by retailers to procure later for the peak Christmas season.

The other two businesses, office automation and branded sporting goods, are going through restructuring as discussed above. Even though the restructure process is painful in the short term, the longer-term effects will be to improve operating margins in this segment quite substantially.

Textile segment
Textile manufacturing from continued operations returned to profitability before interest and reported a R5 million operating profit, compared to a R6 million operating loss in the prior year. This turnaround is largely due to the unwinding of the prior year's forex losses, which has seen gross margins improve.

Acquisitions
We announced on SENS on 13 July 2017 that we had entered into a sale and purchase agreement with Main Street Holdings Proprietary Limited, in terms of which we agreed to purchase 100% of the equity of New Just Fun Group Proprietary Limited ("Just Fun"). This transaction is moving through the regulatory process and is expected to be finalised shortly. The acquisition of Just Fun will bolster the Group's position in the toy distribution market as this business does fundamentally the same thing as our own Prima Toys.
